FOREWORD

IN PRESENTING THIS VOLUME OF THE WO-HE-LO, WE HAVE TRIED TO CATCH THE SPIRIT OF OUR SCHOOL AND HOLD IT FOREVER FOR YOU AS WE LIVED IT IN 1947-48. THE BASIC THEME IS FOUND IN THE WORDS OF OUR ALMA MATER, AND WE HOPE THAT "DEEP IN YOUR HEARTS THERE WILL ALWAYS BE MEMORIES TRUE" OF OUR DEAR E. C. J. C.

DEDICATION

In recognition of his interest and helpfulness in compiling this annual and with sincere appreciation of his genuine character, his just and fair dealings with the students of E. C. J. C., and finally with a desire to give "honor to whom honor is due," we dedicate this, our 1948 WO-HE-LO to Mr. Lynn Dale Furgerson, Registrar of E. C. J. C.

A MESSAGE FROM

The President

To the Graduates of 1948:

You who are graduating this year can remember, and you will always be remembered as having been the largest freshman class ever to enroll up to this time. Yours was the first class to enroll in large numbers following the end of World War II. When you first came to the campus there was evidence on every hand of efforts to house you: unfilled ditches for sewage and water lines, unfinished buildings and the campus generally dishevelled in appearance. The problem is not as acute now as it was when you came, but this institution and every other institution to which students went in large numbers has had a tremendous task to provide facilities for teaching, feeding, and housing you. You probably have already forgotten the lack of hot water, heat, or the inconveniences of living in a trailer court. These may be pleasant memories in the years to come. Most of you were men who had served in the armed forces of your country and you had problems of social, moral, and intellectual reconversion perhaps as urgent as the physical reconversion on the campus. When the history of this country is told, one of the glorious chapters in it will be the story of the work done on college campuses from 1946 to 1948 by the fine young people who were there.

It is a great privilege to be alive and to work at this particular time. The friendships that we have all made and the growth that we have experienced during these years, we shall ever cherish.

WO-HE-LO

With sunken eyeballs and strained red eyes, the thin figure of Paul Simmons leaned over the dummy copy of the WO-HE-LO.

In the corner sat the bankrupt business managers, Lee Hamill and Kenneth Richardson, pondering over the many bills spread before them.

On creaky old stools that would collapse if breathed upon, sat the bony fingered typists, Bright happy eyes looked upon the small bundle of papers, neatly typed and placed for shipment to the printer.

With frequent interruptions from visitors who pointed inquisitive fingers at scattered photographs about the room—the WO-HE-LO, the mangled mass of messy manuscript, went to press.

We've worked, we've slaved, and we have had our troubles, but we'll remember the satisfaction we felt when our job was done and the fun we had doing it.

Shop Building

THE SHOP

The shop courses are divided into four parts: Automobile Mechanics; Paint and Body Shop; Building Trades; and Vocational Drafting.

Automobile mechanics, which was started in 1944, is the oldest division of the course. The purpose of this unit is to train students in all phases of auto mechanics. The student begins with one unit of study and progresses until all units are studied. The instructors are: Mr. O. B. Mayo and Mr. J. J. Keahey.

The Paint and Body Shop, added in 1946, is the second unit. This course includes every detail of body work from dents to reworking the whole body. As in all the departments, learning comes from practice and experience and is supplemented with text books to fit the purpose. R. D. Douglas, instructor.

Body Men

The Builders Trades course began September 11, 1947. The purpose of the course is to teach all phases of building, including brick, carpentry, elementary electricity, elementary plumbing and all related building problems. W. A. Spivey, instructor.

Vocational Drafting is a new course, opened November 17, 1947. The purpose of this course is to train draftsmen in any of the specialized fields which they choose. Mechanical drawing is a prerequisite for this course. For properly evaluating this course a vocational coordinator of Trades Training has been added.

A diploma is granted from the Vocational Department when the student has met the requirements of that department.

INDUS EDUCA

The Industrial Education Department is larger than it has ever been. There are more separate departments and more students in each department.

Students, upon graduation from this department, are qualified to fill the positions of Shop Instructors or Coordinators.

The Auto mechanics boys keep all the school vehicles in running condition. Most of the boys use their own automobiles for experience in mechanics.

The boys in the Builders' Trade Department spent several weeks working for the needy persons in the storm areas whose homes had been destroyed. This experience not only gave much needed assistance to those unfortunate people, but also afforded good experience for the boys. Another project of this department was the construction of a silo on the college farm.

The vocational drafting course offered at East Central is the only course of its kind in the state of Mississippi.

Another department will be added during the Summer Session of this year, known as the Electrical Department with Burt Evans, a well qualified electrician of this area, as instructor. In this department the boys will get training and experience in house wiring and in the repairing of small motors and small generators.

The Industrial Education Department is definitely an asset to this community and this college district.

Beginning the football season at home, the stern Warriors suffered defeat at the hands of Perkinston Junior College. The 18-0 score is evidence of several Warriors being on the injured list.

The next scene of action was transposed to Moorehead's sunny field where the Warriors again suffered defeat. A passing attack in the second half that netted three touchdowns was still insufficient to win. Moorehead 32—Decatur 20.

Returning home to play Ellisville, the Bobcats were victorious over the local colors. Brilliant playing was shown by both teams, but the Bobcats' weight was the decisive factor in their 19-7 win.

Coursing Westward, the Warriors met Goodman and the enemy was theirs. Outstanding play by the improved Warrior line enabled Decatur to gain their first victory and spoil Goodman's Homecoming 13-9.

Then, returning home, the invading Summit Flyers went down in their attempt to upset the Warrior machine. Scoring in the first, third, and fourth quarters, the Decatur team had the situation well in hand, winning 27-7.

The Hinds Eagles were host for the next Warrior contest and were victorious as they celebrated their Homecoming. In spite of a favorable fourth quarter, Decatur was simply outmanned as they lost 20-7.

With a large Homecoming crowd cheering, the Decatur Warriors defeated the invading Scooba Lions 20-0. It was Farmer's day as he scored three touchdowns for the Warrior club. The victory pattern was now formed.

triumphed. A strong running and passing attack brought home the "bacon" to a 20-19 score.

In the last home stand, fumbles and pass interceptions aided the visiting Wesson Wolfpack to overcome Decatur 21-0. It was a hard fought game in which the Warriors aquitted themselves nobly.

The Warriors ended the grid season victoriously as they won an impressive victory over Poplarville. With a third period score of 6-0 favoring East Central, the Decatur boys outplayed the Wildcats in a fast fourth quarter to win 19-13.

The Agriculture Club, during the past, has sponsored judging contests and various other activities. For recreation we often go on fishing and hunting trips, but the big event of the year is the annual banquet which is held in the spring. This year we had our banquet on March 23rd.

PREAMBLE

We, members of the Agriculture Club, hereby affiliate ourselves for the sole purpose of learning more about the various fields of agriculture, developing socially and developing leadership through actual experience.

The Band, under the direction of Mr. R. W. Phelps, worked hard and did much to build school spirit and to support our football team. There were only a few instruments in the band, but we may sum it up in saying it was "little but loud."
